Junior Prom 1998

On June 12, the Junior Class Prom was held at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel. The Junior Class Officers and Executive Board members, with the assistance of Mr. Chris Saheed and Ms. Lynn Williams, made sure that there was delicious food and good music for the students to celebrate. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen. Lateaya Linton was voted the Queen of the Prom. It was particularly significant that it was also her birthday. The newly crowned king, Juan Cosme, was dressed completely in white. It was definitely an unforgettable experience and the students had a great time. As predicted by Co-President Troy Williams at the beginning of the year, the prom was a "Hot Twist."

Clubs and Student Activities

Ten Commandments of a good leader.

1. Believe in something other than yourself.
2. Listen to others.

3. Work as a team, never as a loner.
4. Be considerate of different opinions.

5. Stand for what you believe, even when criticized.
6. Be a peacemaker.

7. Be patient with other people.
8. Make few promises, but keep the promises you make.
9. Work hard.
10. Thank people for what they do. A job worth doing, is work doing right!.

Leadership

Training Session

September 26, 1998

In the fall the CRLS Student Government Association held it first Student Government Leadership Workshop. This was an opportunity for students seeking elected office to get a taste of what it means to be a leader: to listen, to have concern for others, to make difficult decisions, and to have the choice to fight for what you believe in. Nearly fifty students showed up to develop their leadership skills. The students juggled tennis balls, build card houses, clapped and cheered under the direction of Mike Webber, the Leadership trainer that the 1997-98 Student School Committee hired to lead the workshop. The workshop was a big success because it brought CRLS students together to begin to think seriously about what it means to be a leader, and to have a good time. The seemingly silly exercises helped the students begin to think about leadership so they could take their role as elected officers more seriously during the year. (Submitted by Noah McIntyre)

On a sunny morning in September 1995 we sat as freshmen in the Fitzgerald Auditorium. We were brought together by a common bond, ready to embark on our high school careers. We shared some similarities, however, we were different in many ways, just like pieces of a puzzle. Each of us began working to see what our patterns would finally become.

We are all multi-talented human beings, and many different paths were chosen. Some engaged in the arts, government, sports, clubs, internships, taught sign language, and worked after school. Others challenged themselves by taking AP and Harvard extension courses, and some traveled abroad.

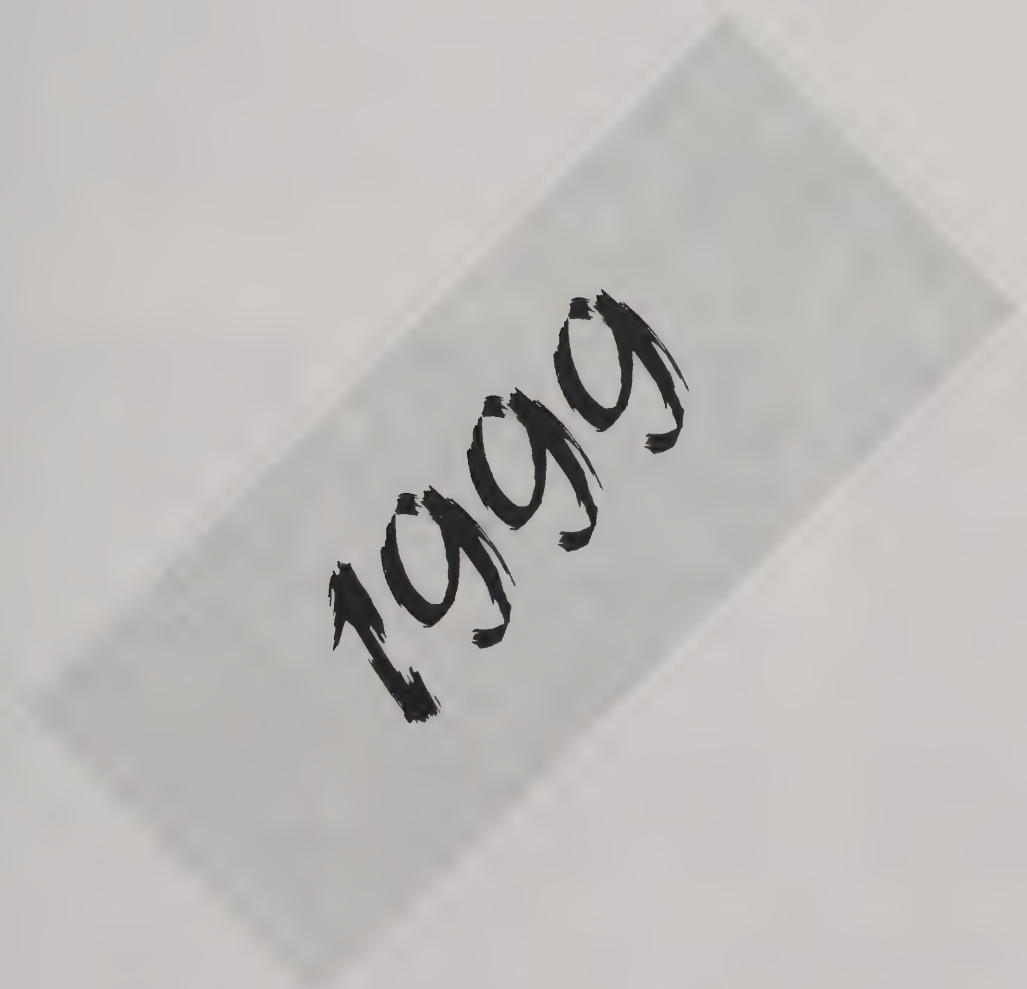

Many realized the value of community service work, while some assumed a leadership role – representing our student body as class officers, school committee and student government reps, and members of the State Student Advisory Council. As our support for one another was encouraged, there were times when we were rivals.

With our failures, lessons were learned. Yet we did not hold back, we dared to try. In doing so, new identities were formed. But we are not yet complete. Now, as graduating seniors many emotions invade our minds. We often pause and wonder what the future will bring.

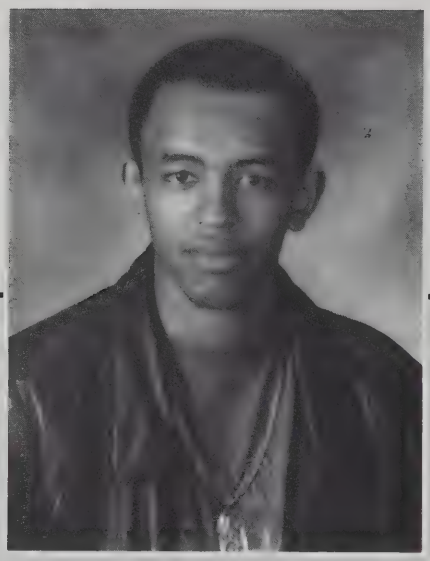

Today, the puzzle has been defined and is rich and colorful. It tells a story of our progression and forecasts our future. Our individual puzzles were merely minute pieces in the larger puzzle and our lives are intertwined in forming a grand mural of life. Maya Angelou, knew it best when she said, "We are more alike my friends, than we are unlike."

We will fondly remember all who assisted in our development. To the 1999 graduates of Cambridge Rindge and Latin, may you always have confidence in yourself and strive for new heights.

CAMBRIDGE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

2464 MASSACHUSETTS AVE.
CAMBRIDGE, MA 02140

Dear Class of 1999,

After 350 years of Cambridge schools, we, the Class of 1999, will be the last graduating class of this Millenium.

In just four short years, our careers here at the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School have come to a close. I feel confident that we as a class, as well as all of you individually, have made contributions, large and small, to the longstanding tradition of excellence in our public school system.

You and I, classmates for the last four years, now face a new challenge. As we prepare to don our black caps and gowns and cross the stage in triumph over the completion of our secondary education, a new chapter in our lives begins. Think of June 17, 1999 as being day one of the rest of your life.

Whether you will pursue further education or join the world of work, your four years at CRLS have laid the foundation for success in whatever you do. Your individual futures come together to form our collective future.

As you go forth from the halls of CRLS into the next chapter of your lives, I wish you health, happiness, and success. I urge you to hold the precious memories of our time at CRLS and use the knowledge and experience that you have gained to work for the good of society, respect for all and a genuine commitment to aspire to the concept that you can make a difference.

May all your dreams and aspirations come true.

Sincerely yours,

Matthew H. Dunphy
